Artist bio

Araceli Robledo Adams is a ceramic artist based in Sydney. Born in Spain, she grew up surrounded by her family's cherished collection of antique hand painted pottery from Talavera. Araceli spent her childhood in Spain and Australia, living also in the UK and Canada before settling in Sydney. She was introduced to ceramics in Toronto and to the mysteries of porcelain in NYC's Greenwich House Pottery. Araceli holds a BA in English, an MA in Marketing and a Diploma of Ceramics (with Distinction).

In a nod to hand-coloured 18th century natural history copperplate engravings, Araceli monoprints her illustrations on the clay pieces she also makes. After a first firing in the kiln, she paints them with watercolour-like washes of underglaze. Each piece is then meticulously glazed and fired a second time, producing functional artworks that are equally at home in daily use or on the wall.

As the climate changes and more natural habitat is lost, Araceli hopes her works for this exhibition elicit wonder and curiosity, so we may be more inclined to value and preserve the underwater Sydney treasures we have.

All the work produced for 'Underwater Sydney' is unique and bespoke for this exhibition. In terms of commissions resulting from the show, Araceli is happy to paint the same species of fish, as long as it is a different specimen. The turnaround time is currently 3 to 6 months and it only applies to the larger sized platters.
